The flames are getting stronger...

Please take a step back and observe from a safe distance.

Something's happening...
It's not good.

If I activate my dragon artifact, I'll be able to withstand the heat.

ACTIVATE!

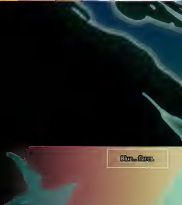

Abide in the Wind

Episode 1 • Riyenas

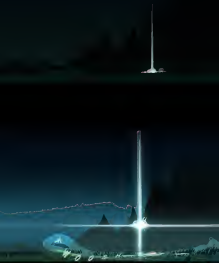

A girl?!

Will it reach them?

DA!

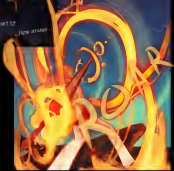

What stuff

The lights went out!

...it's cold, isn't it?

...How strange...

Concentrating
light and heat...

Target...locked on...

Authentic Flame Lance.

Back in ancient times, a Dragon named Zentrark...

created a named artifact to control flames.

Its maximum strength rivals that of the Dragon himself

I only gained them

PRINCE REIHART!
ARE YOU ALRIGHT?!

I could have saved them, and in exchange, as looking as well.

You're outside of the flames with your wings.

But please refrain from using such a big skill.

The mental stress from using a skill correlates with its strength.

Flame seals are characteristic of named artifacts.

However, a dragon artifact would've been detected in the original scan.

What was that bird behind that woman...?

A magic beast?

Or perhaps, an artifact guardian?

Though we never saw anything so
like that before.

People would call that a dragon.

People who didn't see it personally would probably call these ones who did, crazy.

I wouldn't be surprised if that power belonged to a Dragon.

I need to know
what is happening
in this town.

—And he says—

That fight
just now...

might be linked to the Dragon
Knight case.

It would be wise to send a reconnoiter after it.

Go after that fight just now.

There should be a girl with golden-brown
hair and blue eyes.

Find out her motives
and objectives.

...Yes.

ARE THOSE WORDS
DIRECTED TOWARDS AN OLD FRIEND??

Only I could get a hint of so much

Thanks

You were my dear

It's been 500 years
since mankind came to the ancient lands.

We drove the Evans inhabitants back to where they came,
and built a kingdom.

It is the only human kingdom of these ancient lands, known as Kingdom Kartledge.

With the new dragon artifact weapons in place, their military power rose exponentially as they quickly filled the ancient lands.

Kartledge was the first kingdom to be established in the history of mankind,
and faced no threats.

He's the fourth...

"first prince" in that kingdom...

HEY, LUPIN!
YOUR FACE IS FROZEN SOLID,
MAM!

Her face was official freezing, no
what-ops!

How can he keep it?
According to her, told
to ask for him.

She's always on my mind.

Your
grandmother?
Is she doing
well?

Too healthy
for my words.

From the rubble, it would seem that Roy Korte went beneath in an attempt to see a dragon artifact, turning into Blackflame. Eventually, he was swallowed by the fire, leaving nothing but ash.

While there is evidence to show that a dragon artifact was created, the device was not present at the scene. We suspect that the perpetrators took it in order to hide the missing people.

The case regarding the "fire in timberland". Each citizen came up with a different description, and was impossible to draw up a sketch.

There were three people who
at first knew nothing,
but then they knew everything.

Change at all times,
then all remembered
different names.

We're beginning to suspect whether or not this "fire" is real - or just a memory.

A "fire-in-reality"?
According to the local historians, this definitely had a human form. The only person who found the evidence, and then was killed, was the man.

How could this technology...

and could manipulate
a people's memories...

Reiko Kudo

...and then you'll be a professional.
I'm not for people who want to be a professional
of anything.
I'm not for

something else

It's absolutely not trouble to me at all.

That girl's location
is a big variable.
I can't afford to lose her to the Royal Chamber.

That was the father...

Sigh...

Because of this, we have been asked the Dragon Knight's name as well as about that happened in the Magic Forest.

The dragon knight was disappointed as well, with the corpse.

In the center of the Magic Forest, there is a small, abandoned area where knights have been rumored to be present...

I'll use the dragon knights as my power...

If it'll inflict even a little of damage
on that man...

Even if it's just...
